A Thrilling Adventure.

We find the following account of a thrilling adventure in the Oakland Relator. "The Noble Grand Humbug of the Sazerares burst into this office this morning, his face covered with a deadly pallor, and his limbs shaking in every joint. Something terrible has hap-

"Gimme four fingers — a bird load" he gasped, between chattering teeth. The jug was handed out of the cup board, and its contents administered in broken doses. He was sufficiently soothed to tell the following terrible tale.

"Well, you know," he said, "that there has long been talk of heavy deposits of gold in Milpitas. The other day two prospectors from the Black Hills were wandering with their picks and pans around the suburbs of that classic city, when they discovered a cavern of marvelous appearance. They took no heed of the surroundings in their thirst for gold, but boldly entered, and their eyes were greeted with a scene that beggars description. A horrid smell pervaded the cavernous recesses, and they found huge boulders and masses of a substance resembling quartz. After removing the rubbish their picks struck in vast pockets of solid gold, and they soon succeeded in filling their sacks with all they could carry. Just as they were preparing to leave, here the eyes of the Noble Grand rolled wildly, rendering three more fingers necessary, 'there was a violent upheaval. The ground under their feet was thrown into terrible convulsions and rose nearly to the roof of the cavern. Then it opened again, and the bold prospectors found themselves flying through the air at the rate of 60,000 feet a second. They landed in a marsh five miles from the mouth of the cave, comparatively uninjured.

"Was it a volcanic eruption?" innocently inquired the youngest reporter. "Volcano!" shouted the Noble Grand scornfully. "Why, you durned fool, they had crawled into the mouth of a Milpitas girl while she was asleep and were digging away at the plugs in her teeth, when she sneezed them out!"

Ohio Fortune-Hunters.

From the Cincinnati Commercial

Quite recently an advertisement appeared in a number of papers through the country, asking for information of the heirs of Colonel Jacob Baker, a Revolutionary soldier, who died intestate at the residence of his brother, in Canada, in the year 1801. He was an odd, eccentric character, and had been visiting his relative some time. He always appeared to have sufficient means to meet his wants, but quite reticent about his financial affairs, and it was not known that he had any more than a pension from the United States government for his service during the war. His health was very good, but taking a severe cold he grew very ill, and died unexpectedly to his relatives, leaving them his discharge from the army, his uniform, cocked hat and sword, all of which are still in their possession.

It now appears that the Colonel owned a large tract of nearly fifteen acres, then in the suburbs, now in the center and most valuable portion of Philadelphia. The value of the estate is enormous, being rated as high as $150,000,000. Only of late years the facts have been elicited, and efforts have been made to discover the old Colonel's relatives. He was a bachelor, but at the time of his death had several brothers living. A son of one of these brothers, and a nephew of the old Colonel, is Benjamin Baker, living in Brookville, a small town several miles from Dayton. A large number of the family are living in the neighborhood of this section of the country, and a meeting was called in Brookville the early part of the week, at which fifty-seven representatives of the family were present. Funds were raised and subscribed to for sending Mr. Benjamin Baker to make any necessary investigation into the old family records for proving their claim to the property, and the family are determined on asserting their claims.

Decatur Lodge No. 264, I. O. G. T., wants money to liquidate its indebtedness. A committee has been appointed to arrange for a dramatic performance in the hall of the order. This Lodge has given two very successful public performances, and no doubt the one proposed will meet with equal success.

There have a queer mixture at the Macon election to-day. The temperance people have a ticket in the field known as the "anti-license ticket," and the whisky advocates a "prohibition ticket," which means to abolish the sale of whisky by druggists and saloon keepers as well, or require both to pay city license.

The last sacred concert of the season was given at Turner Hall last night, which was largely attended by the Germans of the city and their families. Prof. Goodman's full brass and string band furnished instrumental music for the occasion. These concerts have been a source of much enjoyment to our German population, and will doubtless be resumed next fall.

The line of silverware at Curtis & Ewing's is immense—tea sets, ice pitchers, tilting water sets, card stands, card cases, and everything in the way of silverware, in all the latest patterns and at low figures. [april 28-d&w1]

The Wabash agent at Blue Mound, Mr. E. T. Shaw, accompanied by his wife and child, went to Macon on Sunday morning on a brief visit to his father, Dr. Shaw. Returning home in his buggy at about 9:30 o'clock in the evening he met with an accident on an elevated bridge about two miles west of Macon, which, luckily for himself and family, resulted in no bodily harm. Going over the bridge one of the horses became frightened at something in the road and tried to one side, jerking the buggy off the bridge and throwing the occupants on the ground. The buggy was completely demolished. Mr. Shaw and family returned to Macon on foot, and were safely conveyed to Blue Mound that morning.

A CITIZEN wants to know why it is the law which says in substance that, when a crime or general disturbance is committed, the officers making the arrest shall take the offender before the nearest Justice of the Peace. He is informed that it is the practice of Decatur policemen to totally disregard this law, but hopes that a speedy reform will take place in justice to officials who are constantly in their offices ready for business. The law on this point is very plain and should be observed just as a matter of form if for no other reason.

Vol. 1, No. 1 of the State Temperance Union, published by Fred D. Dalton and George H. Franklin, and dated "Decatur, Ill., May 1," is at hand. It is an out-and-out Murphy temperance paper, and for the information of our readers we will state that the paper has no printing office in this city, but is printed wholly in Chicago. The initial number has no Decatur temperance news, but we understand that Mr. Frankland will see that Decatur is remembered in the future. The Union is a fine looking sheet, but how it will be received by our people remains to be seen.

The Wichita (Kan.) Daily Eagle says a change of the firm name of the City Mills at that place will soon take place. Gen. F. Hargis retiring. The mills are owned by Isaac and D. S. Shellabarger, and Isaac Isabender, of this city, and Mr. Hargis, who was formerly a music dealer here, also has, or had, an interest in them. We understand that he will engage in business on his own hook in Kansas.

The grand street parade of Billy Emerson's mastodon silver cornet band this afternoon was a fine prelude to the performance to be given at the opera house this evening. Billy has the best minstrel band on the road.

Billy Emerson's big minstrel troupe, composed of 18 people, arrived in the city at noon to-day from St. Louis, where they closed a very successful engagement Saturday night. They are registered at the St. Nicholas.

Cate who is going to have elevated tail ways. For the present Decatur is content with her street railway, water works, etc., but we are going to have a canal in the sweet summer time. Operations will begin on or before June 15th.

The testimonial ball at Brennanman's Hall, Thursday evening, given in honor of Prof. R. B. Leonard, will be largely attended. Prof. Goodman's full orchestra will furnish the music.

Wood's confectionery and ice cream parlors are the most elegantly furnished in the city. The oleanders and flowers add much to the beauty of the establishment, and are arranged in good taste.

Decatur florists are well supplied with hot house plants, and, we understand, are prepared to furnish our people with an unlimited number at the lowest ruling prices.

There are about forty subpeenas out for "the boys" on the bawdy house business. This proceeding is very unpopular with them.

We are informed that a noted Danville temperance evangelist is coming to Decatur, and will deliver a series of lectures here.

A NEW BUILDING. This afternoon Mr. H. M. Whiteman took preliminary steps toward the erection of a two-story building 40x70 feet, facing on Wood street back of the American House. When finished it will be occupied by David Hamner as a blacksmith and wagon shop. Mr. Michael Troutman will do the brick work. The building will be ready for occupancy inside of thirty days. It is a noticeable improvement, and will prove to be a profitable business location for the industry for which it is intended.

N. G. COMMISSIONS.—On Friday last the Adjutant General of the Illinois National Guard issued commissions to the newly elected lieutenants of the Decatur Guards, which is reported officially as follows:—

"Second Lieutenant Henry W. Elwood, Decatur, to be first Lieutenant Company II, Fifth Regiment, vice Hall, resigned. First Sergeant, F. W. Wismar, Decatur, to be second Lieutenant, same company, vice Elwood, promoted."

The Lodge has given two very successful public performances, and no doubt the one proposed will meet with equal success.

For years the firm of Steele & Price have deservedly had a high reputation for the excellence of their Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder and Special Flavoring Extracts. They have now added a line of Unique Perfumes, rivaling in excellence the perfumes of this or any other country.

Never buy a clock until you see the mammoth stock at Curtis & Ewing's. Just step in and take a look at them—they are all kinds and sizes, and cheap. [april 28-d&w1]

Our Ruchings must be seen to be appreciated. The best assortment ever displayed in the city, at the Cheap Store.

PULLED TO PEAK.

The inmates of a "Spotted" House in Trouble but out of jail.

About a month ago a woman, who gives her name as Mrs. Howard, came here from Clinton, Ill., and rented the two-story frame house on West Washington street, lately owned and occupied by James Milligan, who had previously removed with his family to St. Louis. Our police authorities for several weeks past have felt in their innocent souls that all was not as it should be at this domicile, and have been heard to remark that it was a popular place of resort for fast young men and lewd women. On Saturday night Marshal Brockway, Deputy Marshal Barnett and Policemen Hiebman and Flynn, surrounded the house and captured the inmates, who proved to be the aforesaid Mrs. Howard, Ida May, and a man who boards there named C. Davis. They, with two young men respectively connected, whose names we have been earnestly requested to suppress, were escorted into Justice Peake's court. Davis and the two women gave bonds for their appearance on Tuesday, and the two young men who were not inside the house, and could only be used at all as witnesses, were permitted to go their way in peace.

The officers say they have positive evidence that the "place" is a notoriously bad one. If convicted the fine of each of the parties will not be less than $25 and costs. There are about a dozen bawdy houses, run on the sly you know, that ought to be closed up, and we understand the police intend to do their duty without fear or favor.

GOING TO TEMPERANCE.—There was the usual audience out at the gospel temperance meeting at the tabernacle last Saturday evening. There was a pretty full representation of the Cold Water Army on the stage. Capt. Post conducted the exercises, which consisted of two recitations by Masters Walter Addis and John Murphy. Mr. Post announced that Mr. G. Frankland would favor the audience with a recitation, and that gentleman came forward and read his piece, and he did it well. Capt. W. E. Bingham was then called upon to make a speech. He did so. But being wholly unprepared, he begged the kind indulgence of the audience. He exhorted all to sign the pledge. After singing D. L. Bunn, Esq., favored the assembly with an interesting address. The meeting closed with seven signers to the pledge, and the benediction by Rev. Father Crissey. The order was much better than at the previous meeting. In the language of the manager, it is plainly evident that "the boys would rather listen to speeches by members of the club than those of the unregenerated man."

WHAT IS TRUTH?

There were two very large and fashionable audiences at Stapp's Chapel Sunday. In the morning the pastor, Rev. G. W. Miller, preached an interesting discourse from the following text found in Hosea, 14: 5. "I will be as the dew to the earth; he shall grow as the lily and cast his root as Lebanon." In the evening Rev. Hiram Ashmore, a Cumberland Presbyterian minister, from Fairmount, Ill., officiated.
